TIA JUANA TALK REVIVED

DEFEAT OF CALIFORNIA RACING MEASURE
LEADS TO DISCUSSION OF PROJECT.

Wealthy California Breeders Reported Willing to Lend Substantial Aid to Plan for Establishing Winter Racing Near San Diego.

Los Angeles, Cal., November 13.—With the defeat of the California Racing Commission bill comes a revival of talk about building a racing plant at Tia Juana, just across the international line from San Diego, and if the revolution in the southern republic ever goes out of business it is quite probable that a track will be built in the border town.

California breeders, wealthy men like Clarence Waterhouse and Adolph Spreckles, who own great breeding farms in the state, have said that they would contribute heavily to a responsible enterprise that contemplated building a racetrack at Tia Juana. If racing could not be resumed in California, they have not indicated any change of mind recently, so it is to be presumed that they still are willing to aid in that project.

James Butler, the multi-millionaire of New York, who built the Kew-Forest racetrack and is the heaviest stock holder in the Juarez racing plant, is reported to have been considering the division of winter racing between Juarez and Tia Juana, but held off because of the prospect that racing might be resumed in California.

The vote against the breeders' bill indicates that racing in California with any form of betting will remain only a dream for an indefinite number of years, so there is no necessity for further delay by these men if they still are considering the experiment of racing at Tia Juana.

KOHLER SHIPMENT TO EUROPE.

Eleven Yearlings Destined for Racing in England and Broodmares for Stud in France.

New York, November 13.—Charles Kohler, one of the most enthusiastic of American turfmen, made an important shipment of thoroughbreds to France and England last Saturday. In all twenty horses were shipped, eleven of which were yearlings, eight of the eleven having been purchased from James R. Keene. The yearlings are to be kept in England for racing there next year, while nine broodmares, all in foal to Charles Edwards, will go to Mr. Kohler's French breeding establishment.

All of the Keene purchases are fillies. They are Divine, by Hippodrome; Betty, by Clavich, by Peter Pan; St. Gyrus, by Corvus; by Voter-Court Dress; Bellatrix, by Hippodrome; Bittoria, the dam of Maskette; Speedfoot, by Voter-Swiftfoot; Dandelion, by Ben Brush; Donquixote, by Supermam; Mayfair, by Umbrina, by Supermam; Umbra, the other yearlings are the colts Double Bass, by Uncle Double Six, and Boudier, by Uncle Bremen, as well as the filly North Light, by Northern Star-Torridlight.

The broodmares that went over in the shipment were: Cottage Maid, by Cliff; Bonorine, by Bucka; Ever True, by Flinter; Bettie Vincent, by Rubbish and Brookwood.

Mr. Kohler now has 120 thoroughbreds and from his first entry to the turf he has always been in the market for good ones. He has met with only a fair measure of success racing, but in the meantime he has gathered together a string that is bound to succeed—both on the race courses and in the breeding stud.
